The Skill of Judicial Fairness

JUDICIAL COUNCIL

Fairness course goals

1. Review what Code of Judicial Ethics says about fairness and bias.
2. Identify common stereotypes and biases.
3. Discuss ways to self-monitor for fairness.

91

91

Reasons to resist a fairness course

- "I am fair or I wouldn't be here."
- "The faculty thinks they know more about fairness than I do" or "They're going to tell me how to be 'politically correct.'"
- "People who think the courts aren't fair are probably the ones who lose their cases."

Definition of Bias

Bias refers to beliefs, feelings, attitudes, and behaviors (speech or action) that reflect:

- Stereotypes about the "true nature" and role of a person;

96

Definition of Bias (cont'd)

- Cultural assumptions; or
- Preconceptions about or preferences toward people or groups of people.

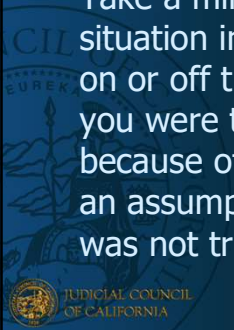

97

97

Recollections

Take a minute to recall a situation in your life (any time, on or off the bench) in which you were treated unfairly because of bias, prejudice, or an assumption about you that was not true.

98

98

Definition of Stereotype

A now obsolete process developed in the 18th century for making a mold from which a metal cast or plate was made that was then used for a printing press run.

Social Cognition & the Law

- Interdisciplinary field that blends psychology, sociology, neurobiology, and physiology
- Principles relate to unintended bias
- Categorization and preferences based on group identity
- Practical ways to minimize bias in role as judges

106

106

Social cognition research conclusions

- Categorization of and preference for people based on group identity is a normal, fundamental process of the human brain.
- Our ability to categorize our experience is an "indispensable cognitive device for understanding, negotiating, and constructing our social world."

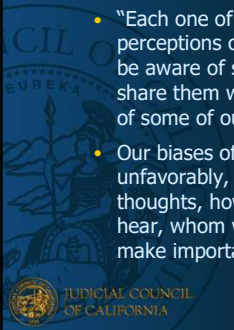

107

107

CACI Jury instruction 113

- "Each one of us has biases about or certain perceptions or stereotypes of other people. We may be aware of some of our biases, though we may not share them with others. We may not be fully aware of some of our other biases.
- Our biases often affect how we act, favorably or unfavorably, toward someone. Bias can affect our thoughts, how we remember, what we see and hear, whom we believe or disbelieve and how we make important decisions."

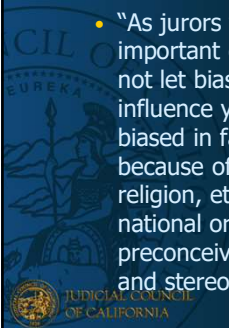

108

- "As jurors you are being asked to make very important decisions in this case. You must not let bias, prejudice, or public opinion influence your decision. You must not be biased in favor of or against any witness because of his or her disability, gender, race, religion, ethnicity, sexual orientation, age, national origin, socioeconomic status or preconceived notions, ideas, generalization and stereotypes."

109

109

The brain identifies,
within a fraction of a second,

- Race
- Age
- Sex

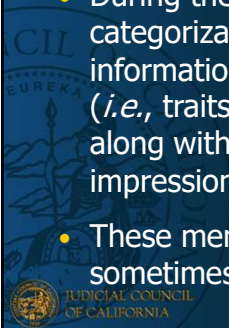

110

110

Mental schemas

- During the process of categorization, our brains encode information about groups of people (i.e., traits) into our memories, along with favorable or unfavorable impressions or values.
- These mental constructs are sometimes called schemas.

111

111

In Group / Out Group Dynamic

This research shows that we are, by nature, prone to prefer most strongly persons in the social categories to which we belong (“in groups” as opposed to “out groups”).

112

112

Particularity vs. Sameness

- We also tend to perceive persons in our own groups with particularity (as unique individuals).
- But we view out-group members as homogeneous, or all the same.

113

Thus, stereotypes are much like heat-seeking missiles in search of confirming information.

114

114

Consequences

And the likelihood that we will behave, communicate, or judge others in ways that reflect implicit bias increases under some circumstances and decreases under others.

115

115

Factors that increase likelihood of reliance on unconscious bias

- | | |
|----------------|--|
| Distraction | Absence of accountability |
| Stress | Lack of motivation to be accurate and fair |
| Boredom | |
| Time pressure | |
| Strong emotion | |

116

116

How to minimize the effects of implicit bias

- Stay motivated to be fair and accurate.
- Maximize accountability.
 - Ask a colleague to observe?
 - Look for patterns in your decisions?

117

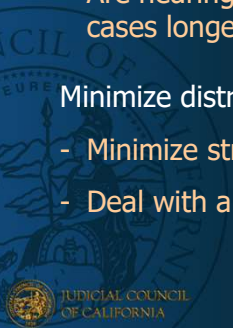

117

Take ample time.

- Are hearings with some groups or cases longer or shorter? Why?

Minimize distractions and pay attention.

- Minimize stress.
- Deal with anxiety and/or depression.

Rule 2.816. Stipulation to court-appointed temporary judge

(a) Application. This rule governs a stipulation for a matter to be heard by a temporary judge when the court has appointed and assigned an attorney to serve as a temporary judge in that court.

(b) Contents of notice. Before the swearing in of the first witness at a small claims hearing, before the entry of a plea by the defendant at a traffic arraignment, or before the commencement of any other proceeding, the court must give notice to each party that:

- (1) A temporary judge will be hearing the matters for that calendar;
- (2) The temporary judge is a qualified member of the State Bar and the name of the temporary judge is provided; and
- (3) The party has a right to have the matter heard before a judge, commissioner, or referee of the court.

130

Rule 2.816. Stipulation to court-appointed temporary judge (continued)

(c) Form of notice. The court may give the notice in (b) by either of the following methods:

- (1) A conspicuous sign posted inside or just outside the courtroom, accompanied by oral notification or notification by videotape or audiotape by a court officer on the day of the hearing; or (2) A written notice provided to each party.

(d) Methods of stipulation. After notice has been given under (a) and (b), a party stipulates to a court-appointed temporary judge by either of the following:

- (1) The party is deemed to have stipulated to the attorney serving as a temporary judge if the party fails to object to the matter being heard by the temporary judge before the temporary judge begins the proceeding; or (2) The party signs a written stipulation agreeing that the matter may be heard by the temporary judge.

131

Rule 2.816. Stipulation to court-appointed temporary judge (continued)

(e) Application or motion to withdraw stipulation. An application or motion to withdraw a stipulation for the appointment of a temporary judge must be supported by a declaration of facts establishing good cause for permitting the party to withdraw the stipulation. In addition:

- (1) The application or motion must be heard by the presiding judge or a judge designated by the presiding judge.
- (2) A declaration that a ruling by a temporary judge is based on an error of fact or law does not establish good cause for withdrawing a stipulation.
- (3) The application or motion must be served and filed, and the moving party must provide a copy to the presiding judge.
- (4) If the application or motion for withdrawing the stipulation is based on grounds for the disqualification of, or limitation of the appearance by, the temporary judge first learned or arising after the temporary judge has made one or more rulings, but before the temporary judge has completed judicial action in the proceeding, the temporary judge, unless the disqualification or termination is waived, must disqualify himself or herself. But in the absence of good cause, the rulings the temporary judge has made up to that time must not be set aside by the judicial officer or temporary judge who replaces the temporary judge.
